

Instructor: ..... Date: .....

Learner: ..... Regional Branch: .....

Program: ..... Center: .....

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Pronunciation Spot: It's time to give a presentation.

Learning Outcome

Exchange information about people's interests and backgrounds using a wider range of language.

Ask your partner:

- Would you stop buying products from a company if it was involved in a scandal? Why?
- What can a company do to change your mind about them?

Can Do Statements

- I can give and understand an oral presentation.
- I can use proper intonation when stressing information.
- I can give a supported argument about work-related processes that would benefit me and my employer.

Let's Explore!

Miranda delivers a presentation. What corrective steps* does Holly's need to take?

* "Corrective steps" are actions taken to fix something undesirable.

RETHINK

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Hello everyone and thank you for coming. We have all been under a lot of pressure lately. A crisis is, indeed, a stressful situation. However, if everyone maintains the same goals, a crisis can certainly be overcome. When it comes to overcoming one, it is important to discuss how to move forward.

A great job was done handling the early stages of the crisis. From a brand perspective, however, we're still not out of the woods yet. I feel it's a bit too soon to be patting ourselves on the back. Farmani and his company were hit hard and, as a result, the company's profitability was affected. A negative association was made so my plan is to rebrand the company.

Rebranding Holly's means developing a new, differentiated identity that will distance itself from negative connotations of the previous branding. In order for that to happen, the client needs to be taken through the process with great sensitivity and care.

How the process is carried out: First, the reason why the company needs to be rebranded is to be determined. In this case, it's a corrective step due to a scandal. Second, research is conducted so as to identify changes the company needs to make. Third, a decision is made on how much of the company our client wants to rebrand. Finally, the costs of rebranding are estimated and a rebranding team is created.

Shall we take a break? I was informed some food and drinks are waiting for us at the cafeteria.

Let's Practice!

Miranda states a number of points. What are they?

Instructions: Choose words from the box to correctly complete the sentences.

is made / our client / The company was / profitability was affected / be determined / needs to be taken

1. _____ hit hard and, as a result, the company's _____.
2. The client _____ through the process with great sensitivity and care.
3. The reason for rebranding is to _____.
4. A decision _____ on how much of the company _____ wants to rebrand.

Let's Practice!

What information was stressed in the meeting?

Instructions: Read the sentences aloud stressing your those words that are in bolds. Record yourself saying the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

- 1) We have all been under a lot of pressure lately.
- 2) A crisis is, indeed, a stressful situation.
- 3) If everyone maintains the same goals, a crisis can certainly be overcome. And when it comes to overcoming one, it is important to discuss how to move forward.
- 4) A great job was done handling the early stages of the crisis. From a brand perspective, however, we're still not out of the woods yet.
- 5) Farmani and his company were hit hard and, as a result, the company's profitability was affected. A negative association was made so my plan is to rebrand the company.

Extension Activity

Let's rebrand a company.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Go on the Internet. Do research on rebranding.
- Choose a brand you like.
- Create a short unstructured presentation on why you plan to rebrand the company.
- Proofread your presentation and present it to your class.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I can identify a brand.

☐ ☐

I can give an oral presentation about a company.

☐ ☐

I can use the proper intonation when stressing information.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to be under pressure (expression): used to say you feel like you have too many things to do e.g. We have all been under a lot of pressure lately.
- to not be out of the woods yet (expression): used to say that there are likely to be more difficulties before things improve e.g. From a brand perspective, however, we're still not out of the woods yet.
- to pat ourselves on the back (expression): used to praise ourselves for doing something well e.g. I feel it's a bit too soon to be patting ourselves on the back.
- profitability (noun): the state of making money by selling things or doing business, after your costs have been paid e.g. As a result, the company's profitability was affected.
- to distance (verb): to say that you are not involved with someone or something, especially to avoid being connected with them e.g. By developing a new identity, they will distance themselves from their previous identity.
- association (noun): a connection between two ideas
e.g. A negative association was made so my plan is to rebrand the company.
- to estimate (verb): to try to judge the approximate cost of something e.g. Finally, the costs of rebranding are estimated.

Learning Points

Stressing New Information

Giving oral presentations is essential in the business world. When presenting in English, it is important to make sure you stress important or new information. Within a sentence, you can choose to put the stress on a word that you think is new (within the context) or important to the listener.

To emphasize a word, you can change the stress from the principal word to another content word. That means that your pitch will rise and the volume will be louder on that word. This keeps the listener engaged in what you are saying and focused on the important or new facts and information.

By choosing a word other than the one you normally stress, you put emphasis on the new one.

When you stress new information, you pronounce new information with more breath force, since it is more prominent.

Examples:

- We have all been under a lot of pressure lately.
- A crisis is, indeed, a stressful situation.
- If everyone maintains the same goals, we can overcome this.

Learning Points

Passive Voice

In English, the sentence structure usually follows the same sequence: subject + verb + object. The subject comes first and the object comes last. However, if you don't want to pay special attention to the subject, you can change the word order. One way of doing this is by using the passive voice to change the focus in a sentence.

The passive voice allows you talk about an event or action from the point of view of the thing or person affected. Sometimes you can write a sentence without even mentioning the agent (who or what was responsible for the action).

This is how the passive is formed:

thing receiving action + be + past participle + (by) + (thing doing action)

Examples:

- A crisis can be overcome if we maintain the same goals.
- A great job was done handling the crisis.
- Our company was hit hard by the bad press.
- The company's profitability was affected because of the crisis.
- Our client needs to be taken through all the steps.
- The reason for rebranding needs to be determined.
- Research is to be conducted by our specialists.

